The steam and vapor of the hammam activates micro-circulation, has a positive effect on joints and relaxes the mind. Thanks to the high temperature, our pores open up giving way for the toxins to leave the body. We should leave the hammam regularly to drink and to refresh ourselves in the shower, then choose a treatment that is suitable for us, in order to purify not only our body, but also our soul. Treatments are given in the hammam halls, on heated stone tables.
